MISS WENDELL AND EDWARD RAYMOND SOON TO MARRY

Engagement Is Announced at Meeting of Y. L. I. at Bride-Elect's Home

When the members of Ramona Institute, Y. L. I., of which Mrs. Frank Salmacia is president, were asked to meet last night at the home of Miss Susan Wendell, 112 South Orange street, they were not aware of the surprise which was in store for them and which was not disclosed until the time when refreshments were served.

When the young women were opening the white crepe paper napkins which were distributed with the refreshments they were surprised to find written in gold across one corner, opposite two love birds, the announcement of the engagement of Miss Susan Wendell to Edward G. Raymond of Grand Rapids, Michigan. Miss Wendell was formerly a resident of that city, but has been making her home in Glendale for the past five years.

Leaves Next Month

Miss Wendell will leave Glendale November 18 for Grand Rapids, where the wedding will take place. She will be greatly missed by her many friends in this city who are planning to give a series of social affairs in her honor before her departure. Miss Wendell was one of the organizers of Ramona institute and was the first president of this organization.

At the business meeting the forty members present decided to hold "hope chest week" November 12 to 18. At that time the hope chest which has been filled with dainty articles by the members of the institute will be on display at the Glendale Music company. This chest will be disposed of at a dance to be given the night of November 17 for the benefit of the purchase of a window for the new Holy Family Catholic church.

CHURCH RECEPTION GIVEN NEW PASTOR

Rev. J. C. Livingston Greeted and Pleasing Program Is Presented at Meeting

At the reception given for the new pastor, Rev. J. C. Livingston, at the Casa Verdugo Methodist church on Wednesday night, a pleasing program, under the direction of John W. Cotton, was enjoyed by a representative congregation of the community.

Four minute speeches of cordial welcome to the new minister were made by Dr. Julius Soper on behalf of the church; H. J. Olmstead, the church board; George Tyrell, the Sunday school; Robert D. Jones, the choir; C. Gaddis, the Epworth league; Dr. J. E. Eckles, the community; Mrs. John W. Cotton, the Ladies' Aid and Missionary societies.

A fitting response by the pastor, piano solo by Mrs. Brunner, readings by Mrs. Robert D. Jones, and choice vocal selections by Mrs. J. Burris closed the program, which was followed by a social half hour, and light refreshments were served.

EXCAVATION WORK STARTS FOR HOTEL

A. Ambrosini States He Hopes to Have Part of Building Ready Near Christmas

Anthony Ambrosini, 632½ East Broadway, started excavating this afternoon for his large hotel which will be erected at the northeast corner of East Broadway and Glendale avenue, E. Schelling of Los Angeles being engaged to do the steam shovel work.

Mr. Ambrosini is now putting up an office building just east of the Broadway garage, which will be used to transact the business of construction. Work will begin on the erection of the hotel just as soon as the excavation is finished, states Mr. Ambrosini, and will be hurried along in order to get as many stories as possible completed before Christmas.

A new theatre building is also being contemplated by Mr. Ambrosini who has purchased the vacant lot just south of the Peerless Ice Cream Products company, 109 North Glendale avenue.

"We have been unavoidably delayed in getting the work started on the new hotel," said Mr. Ambrosini, "but we intend to push it right along now, so that we shall be ready to accommodate the Christmas tourists. The excavation will require the removal of 11,000 cubic yards of earth, or perhaps more.

"Construction will start as soon as Mr. Schelling finishes work with the steam shovel and we shall get as many stories as possible finished by the holidays."

During the second day a house-to-house canvass of the 15,000 residents of Anaheim and vicinity will be made by the delegates. On the third day there will be a parade of 1500 automobiles throughout Orange county.

CENTRAL METHODIST CHURCH RECEIVES REV. V. H. BRINK

Remarkable Growth Shown in Work, Indicated by Report Made to Congregation

A large number gathered at the Central Avenue Methodist church last night to extend a cordial reception to Rev. V. Hunter Brink for having been re-assigned to that pastorate for another year, and to hear a review of the progress of the church during the past year.

In summing up the results of last year's work, Rev. Brink gave some interesting and inspiring facts. Under his ministry during the past year the entire church debt has been paid off, a sixty per cent gain has been made in membership, a fifty per cent gain in the Sunday school, and a 260 per cent gain in benevolences. This remarkable work proved somewhat of a surprise to the many who gathered last night and was of much gratification to all.

Program One Feature

A very pleasing program was given during the evening. Mrs. Casper Tuttle was heartily encored for a piano solo, after which a vocal duet was given by Mrs. J. B. Foster and Miss Jewell Gardner. C. H. Muhleman delivered an address of welcome and congratulated the pastor for his work during the past year.

Rev. Brink responded giving an outline of what the church had accomplished during the year and spoke of his appreciation for having the pastorate. A feature of the church work that will be emphasized this year, the pastor announced, is the Wednesday night dinners which will be given in the social hall.

Each one will bring something for dinner, prayer meeting will be observed as the group is assembled around the table, a Bible study will be conducted after the dinner, committee meetings will be held, and some organization of the church will have charge of the program of entertainment for the evening. The Ladies' Aid will have charge of the first dinner to be served next Wednesday night.

At the conclusion of the reception last night ghosts appeared and ushered the members to the social hall where refreshments were enjoyed and games of a Hallowe'en nature were on the program for the remainder of the evening.

Mr. Lee has also purchased a lot at the corner of Kenilworth avenue and Doran street and Mr. Smith will build a modern four-room bungalow on the property. Mr. Lee is contemplating the disposal of his business interests in Minnesota and reside permanently in Glendale, and should he do so, he states, this is but a start in his building activity here.

America Points Way to World Peace, Is Claimed by Harding

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
Written for International News Service

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 27.—America has pointed the pathway to world peace; it stands ready to lend a helping hand to others along the way, and it will be no fault of America's if some of the nations of the world fail to tread the pathway marked out.

In a few brief words here this afternoon, President Harding gave this summary of the present international outlook and the policy that impelled him to invite the great powers of the world to meet around the conference table in Washington next month. He spoke to a great outpouring of Georgians, massed around the monument erected to Henry W. Grady, one of the old south's most beloved editors and oracles.

The president sounded a note of optimism concerning the forthcoming conference.

"We have tendered our invitation," he said, "and the cordial acceptance which has come from every quarter leads to the earnest hope for good results.

The whole world, the president said, is suffering from the aftermath of war, just as the states of the American union, torn with dissension and weariness, suffered at the close of the Civil war. He pointed to the marvel of reconstruction wrought by the states of the union and ventured the hope that it might be duplicated by the nations of a war-torn and weary world.

The president concluded with:

"It should not be needful for me to repeat that, in whatever contribution we can make to the establishment of a better order, we shall not surrender any of our national independence. America will be for America first, but it will never be a merely selfish America, imagining to prosper by the misfortunes of others. It will stand for the co-operation, the mutual helpfulness, the wide perceptions which mankind needs to cheer and speed it on the way to the brighter and beter realm of peace restored and effectively assured, of progress resumed and righteous aspirations impelling ever greater achievements and ever higher attainments."

President Harding arrived in Atlanta this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock on the last lap of his trip northward.

The president was met at the train by a reception committee and driven immediately to the Druid Hills Golf club for luncheon, after which he was to pay a visit to the home of Joel Chandler Harris, and then participate in a parade to the Henry W. Grady monument for the principal speech of the day.

AUTOCRAT BEST TO RUN GOVERNMENT SAYS EDISON

Difficult to Tell What Will Happen From Any Act, Is Inventor's Statement

NOTE—Thomas A. Edison, the philosopher and wizard of invention, herewith continues his remarkable interview, the first installment of which was published in this newspaper on Tuesday.—Editor.

ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 27.—In one form or other the thought is coming to men all over the world that this civilization may be about to collapse. I heard the thought rumbling in Thomas A. Edison's mind when I talked to him in his laboratory, and at first did not know what it was. We had been talking about a number of things. Pretty soon his brow wrinkled, his face assumed an aspect almost of pain, and he explained:

"Everything is becoming so complex—so complex."

Then it occurred to me that he had made the same exclamation once or twice before during the same conversation. In a few minutes he made it again, and I began to take notice and call for particulars.

"Oh," he said, "life is becoming so intricate, so involved, so mixed up, that it is difficult to tell what will happen as the result of any act. Government, finance and industry are daily becoming more mixed in a maze that human ingenuity seems incapable of untangling. Those fellows down at Washington pass laws without any more knowledge of what effects they will produce than they might have if they were children.

"They pass a law to do one thing and it does the reverse. They press a button here and a totally unexpected explosion happens there. This is so because the whole fabric of our civilization is becoming so intricate that nobody can follow its designs.

"I began to notice this many years ago when a legislature out west passed a law giving a bounty for the killing of coyotes, only to discover a few years ago that in the absence of coyotes, jackrabbits were multiplying so rapidly that the law had to be repealed and bounty offered

UNION LEADERS TO CALL OFF STRIKE, IS INDICATED

First Ray of Hope Is Seen by Chiefs; No New Wage Reductions Coming

BULLETIN—CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—The Brotherhoods, after secret balloting on revocation of the strike call, met again shortly after 3 o'clock. The union leaders absolutely refused to discuss their action but reports that would not down were current that the strike had been voted off. No official action had been taken up to 3:30 o'clock.

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
Written for International News Service

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Peaceful settlement of the railway strike scheduled for October 30 seemed imminent this afternoon as the first session of the conference of executive committees of the five railway brotherhoods that have voted to walk out adjourned. Definite decision to rescind the strike order appeared certain at this afternoon's session of the rail union leaders.

As the union executives left the conference, where Ben W. Hooper, spokesman of the United States railway labor board had laid before them officially for the first time the board's assurance that no further wage reductions would be considered until controversies over working rules had been adjusted, they gave forth the first ray of hope that has come from the union camp that the strike might be averted.

Before entering the meeting the union chiefs had appeared downcast. The change in their attitude as the meeting ended was marked and gave rise to the belief that Hooper had presented to them a tangible basis for adjustment of the controversy. Hooper himself was decidedly optimistic.

"I offered the men the only tangible basis for a settlement of the proposed strike," said Hooper, immediately after the meeting. "The board officially promised them there would be no further wage reductions. This settlement involves no concessions from any side. It was simply an offer to the men showing them a 'way out' of this impossible situation."

Hooper said he had gone into the conference as a "friend of the railroad workers."

Business men who are interested in credit are urged to attend and lend their voice in officering the organization.

'SCHOOL DAYS' WILL BE ATTRACTION AT T. D. & L.

Seven Persons in Act; Other Good Numbers on Program for Vaudeville Show

"School Days," which headlines the big vaudeville road show at the T. D. & L. theatre tomorrow, will bring back fond memories of the days of youth. Perhaps, all didn't have the privilege of attending the proverbial district school, but Manager O. P. Wilkerson says there isn't a man, woman or child in Glendale who won't appreciate the bright wit, humor and fun of this offering.

There are seven people in the act, and it carries its own special scenery. Hendrix-Belle Isle, the schoolmaster, has played the act three times over the Pantages Circuit as well as the Keith theatres in the east.

And for good measure another great headliner is on the same bill. That is Ed Blondell in "The Boy from Home." This act is one of the recognized classics of the American stage and it would be safe to say that there is not a town of any size in America that has not had the privilege of enjoying the "Boy from Home." Tomorrow and Saturday is Glendale's opportunity.

Today is the last day for Norma Talmadge in "The Sign on the Door" and Clyde Cook in "The Sailor."

The feature picture for Friday and Saturday with the vaudeville is Dorothy Dalton in "Behind Masks."

COMMENT
THAT'S ALL

Season for Cyclones
Appreciate Our Winters
What a Hotel Means
Broadway and Glendale

By Gil A. Cowan

WAKE up in the morning and read of millions damage done by a Florida hurricane. Wake up the next morning and read of a similar catastrophe in northern California.

This is a season for cyclonic disturbances. The middle west knows well what it means when the funnel-shaped cloud comes tearing across the horizon.

Fortunately for Glendale, surrounded as it is by the hills, no severe wind storms are noted here. In Seattle or San Francisco one cannot stand within miles of the waterfront on a stormy day and really enjoy the elements.

When the wind blows a blizzard over Salt Lake City—or any part of the intermountain country for that matter—one wishes they were in sunny southern California.

And if you have seen an ice jam on Hampton Roads and been cut to the quick by the icy slashes from over the Atlantic as you walked about the streets of Norfolk, Va., there would be born an appreciation of this favored clime that one cannot otherwise have.

From Santa Fe, New Mexico, comes the word from a garage man that 1100 motorcars passed through that city in one week en route to California. Evidently there are those who do "appreciate" the winters here and Glendale should get its share of these tourists—

But only last night a stranger came into The Glendale Evening News office and asked about rental property. He said some pretty pertinent things that a lot of good residents would not care to read. He was not talking about the people who had built so much as those who had the money and were not building.

News that the first shovelful of dirt has been removed for the basement of the new Ambrosini hotel at Glendale avenue and Broadway gives the tourists some hope of comfortable quarters in another year to come.

If Anthony Ambrosini succeeds in giving Glendale its long-cherished dream hotel—and there are reasons to believe that his project will materialize—there will be no better attraction to this city. For every guest of a hotel is a potential home owner in California.

Many are the improvements which will come as the result of the establishment of a hotel at the corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway. Beyond a reasonable doubt the Union Pacific Salt Lake branch line eventually will be electrolized between here and Los Angeles. Then, too, Glendale avenue will be paved. Watch Broadway and Glendale avenue as well as Brand boulevard property.

While you are watching things take a good look at the number of houses that are being moved from property recently purchased for business purposes. For years nothing had been torn down in Glendale to make room for more substantial structures for the opportunities to build were widely scattered. Now that is changed with the concentrated efforts of hundreds of investors driving homes from Brand boulevard and Broadway and adjacent streets.

Every once in a while somebody tries to set a limit on the business district of Glendale. What they say is about as accurate as the answer to the question, "How far does the crow fly?"

When a woman forgets an injury she keeps forgetting that she has forgotten it.

Revive Age of Chivalry With Pasadena Pageant

KNIGHT OF "THE CRUSADERS"
One of 1000 persons appearing in spectacle in Pasadena on the evening of October 28

The age of chivalry, the days when armored knights fought for ladies fair and for the redemption of Jerusalem from the heathen Moslem, are to be revived in Pasadena with a great Christian pageant, "The Crusaders," which will be presented at far-famed Tournament park on the night of October 28.

The spectacle is to tell the story of the crusades, from the time of Peter the Hermit through that of Richard the Lion-Hearted and De Molay, down to the final wresting of the Holy City from the Moslems by General Allenby in 1917. It is announced as a great educational pageant, open to the public and indorsed by ministers and schools.

Next to the Tournament of Roses, "The Crusaders" is expected to be the greatest event which Pasadena has ever put on, and preparations are being made to entertain more than 12,000 people at the single performance which will be given. It is sponsored by the Pasadena Commandery, Knights Templar, and is a non-commercial undertaking. All southern California is invited to attend it, and in order to assist the public in obtaining tickets they have been made available at every Chamber of Commerce in the southland.

Premier Briand, In Debate, Pleads for Vote of Confidence

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Premier Briand will go to the Washington conference with the confidence of his government behind him, it was indicated tonight. In a test vote on the order of the day, the Prime Minister received 329 votes against 178.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Premier Briand interrupting debate in the Chamber of Deputies, demanded a vote either of confidence or no confidence in his ministry.

"When I speak to the world in the future I want to speak in the name of France," said the Premier. "If I am unworthy, throw me out."

Premier Briand defended the Allied agreements into which France had entered, saying:

"There is nothing to fear. The cabinet is determined upon a firm policy regarding Germany. We will demand all our rights under the treaty. France must not be isolated."

Premier Briand reiterated his statement that he would not go to Washington unless a strong majority votes an endorsement of his policies. Such a vote is expected next Thursday.

No Lives Lost by Florida Hurricane; Damage Is Heavy

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 27.—Wireless reports, press dispatches and telegrams from Tampa, St. Petersburg and other points on the west coast of Florida said that while the hurricane which swept over that section Tuesday afternoon and night did heavy property damage, there were no lives lost.

Facts gathered from the meagre information at hand tend to show that the Florida orange crop has been badly damaged, that fashionable residences at Daytona, Sea Breeze, Plant City and Lakeland were damaged seriously by the storm and that in Tampa the business section was under three feet of water.

It is impossible to estimate the damage done in Tampa proper. Several small buildings were blown down; others were unroofed. The city is without telegraph facilities, electric lights, telephone or street car service.

The wind blew at the rate of sixty miles an hour in Tampa. St. Augustine and Orlando suffered almost as heavily as Tampa, but only meagre advices have been received from these places.

FATHER KILLED; SON HURT

SUNBURY, Pa.—Peter J. Marinos, 56, was killed, and his son, John P., 30, a Sunbury and Selins Grove merchant, slightly injured when their truck turned over while they were returning from a trip to Hilliamsport. The footbrake failed to hold on a hill. The truck ran down, and at the bottom turned over. The elder man tried to jump, while the younger, driving, was thrown clear of the wreckage.

Mrs. N. Williams Resigns From Bank, Enters Supply Co.

Mrs. Nettie Williams, 811 East Colorado, who during the past year has been assistant to D. H. Smith in the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank, 104 North Brand boulevard, has resigned to take up the position of secretary and treasurer of the Tujunga Supply company, a $10,000 corporation which will handle building material.

In assuming her new work Mrs. Williams states that her chief regret is that she will not get to meet so many Glendale people, but she added that she intends to spend the weekends in Glendale. Mrs. Williams is much enthused over the prospects of her work in Tujunga and said:

"The Tujunga Supply company, a $10,000 paid in capital corporation, is going to try to solve the housing problem in Tujunga, and to do this we are going to handle building materials of all kinds, which will allow all newcomers to build at once. O. L. Zook, 623 West Harvard street, is president of the company, and W. D. Thatcher and G. G. Farris, both of La Crescenta will be affiliated with the organization.

"I regret that my new work will interrupt my meeting so many Glendale people with whom it has been a pleasure for me to see during the past year. My work at the bank has also been very pleasant, and I shall not forget Glendale."

Pastor of Catholic Church Slain; Crime Like Hightower Case

LEAD, S. D., Oct. 27.—The finding of the body of Father Belknap, pastor of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church here, on the outskirts of the city, with three bullet holes in it, disclosed a crime parallel to the killing of Rev. Patrick E. Heslin, Colma priest, for whose murder Wm. A. Hightower was recently convicted in California.

According to information given the police, Father Belknap was aroused from his bed in the Parish house early Wednesday morning by a man who told him a relative was dying on the outskirts of the city. Rapidly dressing himself, the priest started afoot on the "sick call" with the stranger. When police answered a telephone call complaining of gun fire in the western section of the city, they found Father Belknap's dead body.

Build More Battleships Than Japan, Is Advised

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—"Build two battleships for every one built by Japan."

This is the advice to the United States by John Hays Hammond, internationally known mining engineer, if the disarmament conference fails of its purpose. Hammond has just returned from a tour of Japan and the Orient.

"My message to America," he said, "is to call Japan's bluff."

Offer School Sites In Writing, Plea of Dr. Harry V. Brown

"It is the wish of the board that no bona-fide high school sites should be withdrawn," stated Dr. Harry V. Brown, president of the board of trustees, yesterday, "but that statements regarding proposed sites should be placed in writing and accompanied by options for sixty days.

"The board is determined to give the people the chance to settle this question," declared Dr. Brown. "The discussion at the next mass meeting will be limited to the preferential sites to be placed upon the ballot. The number of them will be up to the opinion of the meeting.

Dr. Brown remarked that a mass meeting ought to be willing to authorize the board of trustees to call a bond election, but that the selection of a site really was up to the board of trustees.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 27.—Thirty-three Chinese members of the Keystone State crew, in port here, are being sought throughout the northwest today by Federal Immigration authorities. It is understood an agrement to this end has been reached by counsel on both sides.

Discusses Philippine Troubles

He declined to discuss the nature of the report. He denied, however, that extensive graft had been unearthed through the investigation and took a cheerful view of the financial situation in the islands with General Wood at the head of the government.

Remarkable Growth of Adventist Work Shown by Reports

Editor The Evening News:—Statistical reports just to hand from the Seventh-day Adventist denomination reveal that since its organization in 1863, with less than 3,000 members, the close of 1920 shows its membership to be nearly 200,000. At its organization it carried no missionary list, but now it has missionaries in 110 nations, covering more than three-fourths of the world's population. The Adventists have now 4,545 congregations, with 6,150 Sabbath schools.

They operate forty-five publishing houses, and thirty-three sanitariums which employ 156 physicians and 2,250 nurses and other employees. In these institutions there were treated last year 27,791 patients, besides 15,000 who sought relief at affiliated treatment rooms.

Their reported funds for last year were $11,854,404.23. This was a per capita contribution of $63.92. The denominational literature sales for last year amounted to $5,682,972.35. This literature, issued in ninety-nine languages, was in the form of 144 periodicals, 685 bound books, 430 pamphlets, and 1,896 tracts.

Considering the "unpopularity" of their doctrines, and the fact that their members are "out of joint" with the whole world for two days in every week, this is a most remarkable growth, which shows a decided sincerity in the doctrines advocated by the Adventists.

Reading Circle Has Large Attendance at Review of Volumes

A record attendance marked the meeting yesterday of the Mutual Benefit Reading circle, Mrs. A. A. Barton presiding. The review by Mrs. C. H. Pendleton on "Youth and the Right Job," by Genevere Parkhurst, was followed by an interesting discussion.

The reading of the book, "All the Children of All the People," was continued by Mrs. H. V. Henry. Some of the points brought out by the author in the chapters taken up yesterday were that the schools must be made to fit the children instead of the children to fit the school.

In answer to the question as to "What constitutes an educated man?" the author stated that it is the man who has so developed the power within himself to do well what he undertakes, or in other words "the man who is onto his job."

Illinois Judges in Defense of Attorney Accused by Woolwine

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Judges of Chicago and Illinois courts went to the defense of the character of Attorney Charles E. Erbstein of Chicago, whose integrity and honesty as a lawyer have been attacked in Los Angeles where he had gone to act as defense attorney for Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain, accused with Arthur C. Burch of the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, young broker. Erbstein was attacked in court by Prosecutor Thomas Lee Woolwine, who objected to Erbstein's appearance as a lawyer at the trial.

Telegrams and letters were forwarded to the grievance committee of the Los Angeles County Bar Association, which is investigating the charges of Woolwine that Erbstein was a "trickster and jury fixer." Among those who sent communications were Chief Justice Charles A. McDonald of the criminal court, and Judge Theo. Brentano, former chief justice of the superior court. The tenor of the communications was a "plea for fair play."

Tax on Beer and Wine for Medicinal Purposes Proposed

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 27.—A tax on beer and wine used for medicinal purposes of 60 cents and $1.20 a gallon respectively, was proposed by Senator Wadsworth, Republican of New York, in the senate as an amendment to the pending compromise tax bill.

The tax, if adopted, would be directly applicable to the beer and wine dispensed by physicians and drug stores under the recent treasury regulations governing their use. The bill already carries a tax of $6.40 a gallon on distilled spirits except those used for medicinal or industrial purposes.

Senator Johnson of California Votes in Line With Democrats

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 27.—A proposal to continue approximately one-half of the existing excess profits taxes offered as an amendment to the pending tax bill by Senator Reed, Democrat of Missouri, was defeated in the Senate Wednesday afternoon. The vote was 42 to 31. Five Republican senators voted for the amendment — LaFollette, Johnson (Calif.), Borah, Kenyon and Norris. The Democrats voted solidly for the amendment.

The vote was considered a test of strength on the proposal to repeal the excess profits tax.

Seek Contraband Liquor

All available prohibition enforcement agents led by State Prohibition Director E. Forrest Mitchell, searched highways leading into Los Angeles today for a reported $180,000 consignment of contraband bonded liquor believed en route to this city from San Francisco.

While the search was being made of the highways agents of the enforcement department were active in Los Angeles running down clews that two Los Angeles business men, a firm of Los Angeles attorneys, and a former Los Angeles saloonkeeper have been handling for some time liquor shipments from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

Mitchell asserted his information is to the effect that among the members of the liquor "ring" are two San Francisco politicians, a San Francisco lawyer and four San Francisco business men.

Wants Woman's Trial First

Charles E. Erbstein, Chicago lowyer, in Los Angeles to defend Madalynne Obenchain, charged with the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, has begun a fight to have Mrs. Obenchain tried before Arthur C. Burch, indicted with her on the slaying charge. Burch's trial is scheduled to begin next Tuesday.

In the opinion of several leading attorneys, Erbstein's move to have Mrs. Obenchain tried first seemed a "forlorn hope" in view of the fact that the Los Angeles Bar association's decision on the charges made against him by District Attorney Woolwine to prevent his admission to practice in local courts cannot be reached before late Tuesday night, after the Burch trial has already been started.

Both sides announced today that they were ready to begin Burch's trial Tuesday morning and once it is started Erbstein's plan to have Mrs. Obenchain tried first will have been defeated.

The hearing of the Bar association's grievance committee on Woolwine's sensational charges against Erbstein's personal reputation will be held Tuesday night in Superior Judge Houser's courtroom.

Mrs. Campbell Found Guilty

After deliberating eight hours, the jury in the case of Mrs. May M. Campbell, charged with slaying her husband, Jess Campbell, at Balboa Beach last June, returned a verdict of manslaughter early today at Santa Ana. The penalty for manslaughter is from one to ten years' imprisonment. Sentence will be passed by Judge Williams on Monday.

The state made a demand for a verdict of first degree murder, carrying the death penalty. Three women and nine men composed the jury.

Mrs. Campbell was prostrated when the verdict was read.

Mrs. Campbell's counsel claimed she acted in self-defense when she shot her husband. It was also claimed she was of unsound mind at the time.

Mrs. Roe Gets New Trial

Mrs. Mabelle Roe, sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of McCullough Grayden a year ago at Venice, in a row over the rental of a bungalow, was granted a new trial by Division 1 of the District Court of Appeals.

Mrs. Roe was the first woman ever convicted of first degree murder in the history of Los Angeles county.

Strike of Musicians Broken

With reports made public that many of the striking union musicians were returning to their former positions under open shop conditions it was expected that Los Angeles theaters would be able to present their usual musical programs by the end of the week.

According to Frances R. E. Woodward, secretary of the Los Angeles Theatrical association, many of the union men are back at work.

To Ship Fruit Via Water

At the closing session of the fifty-fourth annual convention of fruit growers and farmers of California, the opinion was expressed by delegates that a new line of ocean freighters will be organized by the fruit growers to handle products between this coast and the Atlantic seaboard.

It is understood that pre-cooling warehouses will be erected at San Francisco, San Diego and Los Angeles harbor to store the fruits before they are loaded in steamers.

It was said that new boats will be built for especially fast service and they will be luxuriously furnished in order that they can carry passengers.

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE.
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The Pacific coast has been uniformly successful when its athletes invaded the east, as evidenced by the performances of track team men, tennis players, swimmers and others. The latest to take up the good work of keeping the easterners reminded of the prowess of the far rim of the continent is "Champion Humberstone Tough Nut."

"Tough Nut" isn't exactly an oarsman, tennis player or track athlete, but he was adjudged the best dog exhibited at the recent bench show here. Toughy or Nutty, or whatever he may be called for short by his intimates, is a wire-haired fox terrier owned by Irving C. Ackerman of San Francisco.

Bill Lange, of San Francisco, in his day one of the brightest stars of professional baseball, was a constant attendant at every game of the world's series where he kept his eye particularly on the work of George Kelly, of the Giants, who is his nephew. When asked what he considered the greatest change in baseball since the days in which he played, Bill said: "I think it is in the pitching. In my day the pitchers tried to keep the ball high and on the inside on the theory that batters would hit them in the air. Now they seem to prefer to keep them low, breaking them around the batters' knees. It has been the ability to accomplish this that I think has been the greatest factor in the success of Jess Barnes."

When Babe Ruth gets over the effects of his abscess, his sore arm, his coid in the head and his strained knee he ought to be all right again. Otherwise, however, there is nothing the matter with him, as far as we know.

Martin Smith is the name of a lightweight boxer the ring fans of New York have their eye on. Young Smith is a natural born fighter who seemingly has all the natural qualifications of a champion. What has attracted attention to him is the fact that he has been winning his fights via the K. O. route. In his last battle here a few nights ago he sent his opponent into slumberland in less than half a round. Smith now is a bona fide amateur and has been performing in events sanctioned by the Metropolitan A. A. U. Naturally, there is a considerable difference between winning fights in the amateur or the professional ring, but his friends say that, inasmuch as Smith has "the punch," it is not likely to be any less effective in a professional fight than an amateur one. Smith evidently is satisfied to continue yet awhile in the amateur ranks but the managers of professional boxers are watching him keenly.

Yale university already has started in its rowing campaign in preparation for its races of next spring and summer. A total of 325 candidates presented themselves to head coach Jim Corderry, who replaced Guy Nickalls last year and who has been reappointed to look after the interests of the dark blue on the water. This is a new record never before approached at Yale in the number of candidates out for the crew.

SPORTS CHATTER
By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Who is to replace Bill Tilden and Bill Johnston on the tennis courts of this country?

Neither of these players is through in the ordinary sense of the term as used in sports, but it is the same old story—"youth eventually tells."

Tilden and Johnston cannot go on forever. Every champion, no matter in what line of sport, has his day. He reigns for a certain length of time, but eventually he meets his match. Generally a younger man comes along and relieves the champion of his crown. Johnston has been in the championship class longer than Tilden and there are many who believe—in the east particularly—that he is pretty nearly finished as far as championship contention is concerned. Personally the writer does not agree with this viewpoint, though Johnston is getting to an age where it is a natural sequence that he has not the vim of his past. He is probably one of the greatest tacticians the courts ever knew, and that he is the greatest fighter when he is backed up to the wall is acknowledged in every part of the world wherein he has played.

They say in the east there are no youngsters on the Pacific coast to take Johnston's place. This we do know that in Portland, Ore., Seattle, Wash., Los Angeles and San Francisco, there are innumerable youngsters round 12 to 18 years who give promise of being second Tildens and Johnstons. The Pacific Sports Service has arranged with Howard Kinsey to write a story on these coast prospects. There is no one better fitted to write such an article than Kinsey. He is, with his brother Bob, the present Pacific Coast doubles champion. Last year he won the Oregon state and Pacific Northwest championships and knows the coming players in every section of the coast. Further than that he has taken over the once famous Golden Gate Park Junior Tennis club of San Francisco which club was made internationally famous by Dr. Marvin who is the man directly responsible for the production of Morry McLaughlin, Mel Long, Bill Johnston, Willis Davis and a host of other world-famous stars of this coast. If Kinsey can produce such stars as those named then the tennis world will owe him a debt of gratitude. An article on the Pacific Coast youngsters is now being prepared by Kinsey for readers of the Pacific Sports Service syndicate of papers and will be printed by this paper shortly.

The Australian Davis cup players at least do not share the eastern impression that the Pacific Coast has no one to take Johnston's place. On his way home to Australia while in San Francisco the writer spoke to Peach and Anderson on the Australian team on the subject. They had seen some of the "kids" in action in San Francisco and were amazed at the standards shown by such boys of only 12 years.

"You seem to foster play for boys in America more than any other country, and this seems particularly true with California. I saw several boys on your courts, boys, real boys only 12 and 14 years, who, in my opinion, have a wonderful opportunity of becoming famous some day. I think in San Francisco you have boys who with some coaching and playing against good men will eventually be heard from."

DIVORCE FOR SECOND TIME

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo.—What matters a few divorces, anyway? Following their first legal separation Joe May, 67, and his wife, 65, were remarried. The "hatchet" was dug up again, though, and the marital troubles of the elderly couple are by no means settled. Alleging desertion and treatment which made amicable domestic relations impossible, the husband has petitioned the chancery court here to again sever the marriage knot.

Local Midgets and Alhambra Squad to Clash Here Today

Coach Butterfield's midget warriors and the strong Alhambra eleven of the same class will clash on the local lot this afternoon. Alhambra was the midgets' first victim, but owing to the ineligibility of men on both teams, the fracas had to be replayed.

This week has been quite a strenuous one for both teams of the high school, the heavyweights playing and beating Alhambra Monday, and the Midgets defeated the old rivals, Citrus Union, with a score of 20 to 0. The heavyweights will play its regular game with Citrus on Friday, thus leaving only yesterday, which was utilized by both coaches for a strong workout.

Captain Roberts, who was injured in the Covina game, will be in the lineup, which will greatly strengthen the team. So far the lightweights have not lost a game, and are strong contenders for the pennant. Today's game will probably be the hardest fought of the season, as they were hard to beat in the previous brawl. With the long end of the score tucked in Butterfield's pocket after the game, there is no doubt as to whether or not the locals cop the Central league rag, and possibly the Southern California championship.

SIGNATURES OF RULERS

LONDON—Undoubtedly the superhunter of autographs is Joseph K. Milkulec, a Jugo-Slav, who has arrived in London to get the signatures of English royalty and famous British men and women, and incidentally to complete his collection. This already numbers 50,000 messages and signatures of kings, presidents, princes and great men of twenty-six nations, which are all contained in a ledger-like book weighing thirty pounds. It his boast that the collection does not include a single German signature, not even the ex-kaiser's.

Government Overhead Cause of Disturbance, Says Chas. M. Schwab

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Government overhead is one of the chief causes of industrial disturbance, Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, declared in an address before the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

"The alarming decrease in the price of farm products shows the necessity for readjustment all along the line," he said. "There is too much overhead in the cost of government. The cost of government has increased tremendously in the last few years. The time has come to start cutting down the cost of administering our affairs. This is a very necessary step in readjustment."

Movies Intoxicating, Says This Professor

HONOLULU, Oct. 27.—The people of Hawaii may be located some two thousand miles from the center of the moving picture industry, but they are for the most part ardent supporters of "canned drama" in its higher forms.

This fact has been brought to light as the result of a controversy for which Professor Maud Babcock, head of the department of public speaking of the University of Utah, is largely responsible. Speaking before the Honolulu Ad club recently, Miss Babcock denounced the "movie" in no uncertain terms, saying in effect that it had neither educational nor recreative value, but acted merely as a form of intoxication. Her speech has brought forth a storm of adverse comment in the Honolulu press, which indicates that the public is strongly in favor of the silent drama.

Now comes Prof. Vaughan MacCaughey, superintendent of public instruction of the Territory, and says that he believes moving pictures to be increasing in value as an aid to education and that he "looks forward to the time when every large public school in Hawaii will be equipped with moving picture outfits."

It now remains for Professor Babcock to score the "last word."

CONFEDERATE PENSIONERS

RICHMOND, Va.—Virginia's Confederate pensioners now number 9575 about one-half of whom are women. The state auditor declares it is becoming increasingly apparent that the veterans are passing away far more rapidly than their wives, due to the fact that in nearly all instances on record the wives are considerably younger than their husbands. Many of the veterans were married twice. Virginia pays its Confederate veterans $200 a year in case of total blindness, $100 a year in case of total disability, and pays $60 a year to widows of veterans who were married before May 1, 1880.

SUES FOR SANITY ATTACK

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo.—W. T. Brock is seeking some "cents." Following his arrest by Dr. J. R. Riddle and Ross Dees and the subsequent demand by those two men that the state "examine the sanity of Brock," the latter has filed suit in circuit court here asking $21,000 damages from the men "who questioned his mentality."

MUSIC FESTIVAL AT GLENDALE THEATRE IS APPRECIATED

Opera Singers Give Program of Songs Selected From Greatest Productions

Tonight is the final opportunity for Glendale Theatre patrons to enjoy the music festival as presented by the Sonora Grand Opera singers, who are presented as an extra added attraction in a program of operatic selections from the world's greatest operas, and also lighter songs.

The performance of these universally known artists has nothing of the formal monotony of a mere concert. It is brightened by their costumes which fit the part they portray, until the transported listener can almost build about them, in imagination, the environment that fits the song.

Eduardo Lejarazu, baritone; Beatriz Pizzorni, soprano; Speria Castel, contralto, and I. Del Castillo, accompanist, appear on the program, in addition to the regular feature picture, "The Rage of Paris," stafring Miss Dupont, that beautiful blonde.

"The Rage of Paris" is an absorbing and colorful study of woman, with the upper strata of the exclusive set of New York, the revelry of Parisian night life and the burning sands of the Arabian desert as a dramatic background.

At Regular Prices

There is no raise in the price of admission, this engagement being offered as an extra treat, so that all can take advantage of the wonderful opportunity.

The program today follows:

"O Sole Mio" .....Capua
"Somewhere a Voice Is Calling"
Beatriz Pizzorni
Toreador Song .....Carmen
"Silver Threads"
Eduardo Lejarazu
"Samson and Delilah" ....Saint-Saens
Duet—"Tales of Hoffman"
Miss Pizzorni, Miss Castel
"Goodbye Everybody"—Modern Eve Ensemble

J. A. Sparks Asserts Most of East Now Coming to Westland

J. A. Sparks, who was formerly engaged in a dry cleaning establishment here and still owns property on Orange Grove avenue, motored into Glendale recently from Elk City, Kan., and he told business acquaintances that it seems the east is being depopulated by California-bound people.

In Mr. Sparks' party from Elk City there were twenty-five machines and all along the road they met similar caravans. At a garage in Santa Fe, N. M., the owner told them that 1100 machines had passed through in seven days.

Glendale Mill Co. Is Steadily Growing; Now Office, Factory

The Glendale Mill company, which has been under the management of C. U. Mandis for a decade, is developing its business to such an extent a new office and factory building is being erected on Howard street. It is a brick and corrugated iron structure with a cement floor and cement vault for records, etc.

The sash and door manufacturing department will be moved from the Isabel street buildings into the new quarters which will be equipped with additional machinery, according to Mr. Mandis.

Philip W. Parker Sells Bungalow to Banker of Pasadena

Philip W. Parker has sold his pleasant bungalow home at 518 North Central avenue to a Pasadena banker whose name is withheld by W. P. MacMullin of the Edwards & Wildey agency, 139 North Brand. This is the second banker from the Crown City who has purchased a home in the vicinity of Central avenue and Doran street. Dr. Hill, a noted geologist, also bought a place in the same vicinity. Mr. MacMullin states the consideration in each case was $9,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Approval has been given by the Railroad commission of the application of the Pacific Gas & Electric company to issue and sell at not less than $80 per share, 20,000 shares of cumulative first preferred stock and to use the proceeds to pay in part actual or estimated construction expenditures.

FOLLOWS HUSBAND TO JAIL

TRENTON—Imprisonment of her husband for violation of the liquor law apparently had no effect on Mrs. Frances Lasckey, who was in magistrate's court today on two liquor charges. Judge Marpall, when the woman pleaded guilty, imposed a sentence of thirty days and a fine of $100 for each offense, sentences to run concurrently. Mrs. Lasckey is the first woman to be sent to jail here for violating the Van Ness act.

Grow Like Glendale! What? Evening News Classified Ad Pages!

Classified advestising columns in The Glendale Evening News which have been growing each day soon will occupy two full pages, the record yesterday being thirteen columns, an unprecedented amount of business for any newspaper in a city the size of Glendale.

However, there is a reason which can be given in one word: RESULTS. It pays to advertise when you get results.

An instance coming to attention today is that of E. H. Gillies of 1312 East Wilson avenue. He wanted to rent his house. A three line classified advertisement was inserted in The Glendale Evening News. By 9 o'clock the next morning ten parties had called and the place was rented.

By that hour Mrs. Gillies was so disturbed by the constant ringing of the doorbell that she improvised a sign which read: "This house is rented."

Not only does it pay to advertise in the classified columns, but it pays to read them. And when you have satisfied yourself with the bargains as well as the events of the day, mail your copy of The Glendale Evening News to your friends in the east.

Industrial Summary

Notes from Federal Reserve Bulletin:

Picking and ginning of cotton is now in progress throughout the cotton belt.

As a result of favorable weather conditions during August, the average condition of the tobacco crop increased from 67 per cent on August 1 to 71 per cent on September 1, and the estimated production on the latter date was 948,324,000 pounds.

Compared with the average for the eight years preceding, 1921 production of coal is 62,000,000 tons in arrears and is steadily falling still further behind.

Demand for both crude and refined oils showed some improvement during August, but prices of most refined petroleum products continued to decline on account of the large stocks on hand. Prices of fuel oil, however, showed a slight increase during the early part of September.

During the first three weeks of September prices of most basic commodities advanced or showed little change from the August level. In the case of live stock the tendency was the reverse, hogs showing particular weakness, but certain other agricultural commodities, such as cotton, wheat, oats and wool, advanced.

Stocks and Markets

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The stock market closed strong today. There were some recessions from the high levels in the last few minutes, but the tone on the whole remained strong. U. S. AUTOCRAT BEST TO RUN GOVERNMENT SAYS EDISON for the killing of rabbits. And forty years ago Herbert Spencer wrote some wonderfully illuminating chapters on the complexity of civilization in his day. Spencer took up thirty-four laws enacted by the British parliament for the relief of the poor, and demonstrated that thirty-two of these laws actually harmed the poor.

"But the complexity of civilization in Spencer's day was as nothing in comparison with what it is now. The curve of complexty is rising rapidly whereas our ability to cope wth the problems of complexity is increasing only very slowly."

Then Edison uttered the sentence that shows the fear that shadows his mind.

"I don't know what will happen to us in fifty years," said he, "if this thing keeps on."

Edison apparently believes we could pull our way out if we would, but he seems not optimistic over the prospect that we will. A card on a wall in his laboratory tells the story of his doubts. It is a sentence from the writings of Sir Joshua Reynolds, reading:

"There is no expedient to which a man will not resort to avoid the real labor of thinking."

It is a strange thing that really great men never seem to think that the things they do are great. Edison says it is not hard to think when one has formed the habit. Henry Ford honestly believes that everything he has done is simplicity itself, and feels that he is just at the beginning of his career, during whch he may yet do something worth while. Edison told me today of a problem brought to him by a concern of international reputation. He saw the cause of the difficulty that troubled them.

"I saw it as plain as day," he said, "and tried my best to make them see it, but I don't believe they saw it."

I called Edison's attention to Ford's railway achievements; how he had taken a broken down road that was losing money, and made it pay; how other American railway men had tried to belittle his performances.

Edison's eyes twinkled.

"Ford can do a lot of things that other men cannot do," replied Edison. "Ford is an autocrat. He does not have to ask anyone's consent to do anything.

"And he knows what to do. He is a genius. An autocrat is the best kind of a man to run an industry or government—provided he is a good autocrat. But there is just about as much chance to find a good autocrat, when you are looking for one, as there is a chance that lightning will strike you when you are out in the rain. That is why our form of government, slow as it is, is the best. A good autocrat would give us better government, but it would probably be a long while between good autocrats."

Eugene V. Debs to Be Given Liberty Soon, Is Believed

By W. H. ATKINS
Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. — Eugene V. Debs, the imprisoned leader of the Socialist party, is nearing the end of his confinement at the Atlanta penitentiary, according to the belief prevailing here today. President Harding's action on the pardon appeal is believed to be imminent.

Soon after the exchange of the ratification of the peace treaty by Washington and Berlin, the president will issue a proclamation that the United States is once more at peace with the whole world. Action in the Debs case is expected to follow speedily.

Attorney-General Daugherty has submitted his recommendations to the president and these have been approved, except for some minor changes as to phraseology.

While the decision in the Debs case is closely guarded, it is believed certain that the Socialist leader will gain his liberty. In no official quarter is it suggested that there will be a full presidential pardon, with its restoration of civil rights, but instead a commutation that will allow him to recuperate his broken health outside prison walls.

Debs has served about one-fourth of his ten-year term for violation of the espionage act.

Community Property Decision Is Given by U. S. Circuit Court

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27. — Under the California law of 1917, a wife acquires her half of the community property in her own right and not as the heir of the husband, according to an important decision handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals affecting vitally the collection of both state and federal inheritance taxes.

The decision which upheld one rendered by District Judge Rudkin holds that the statute of 1917 changed the inheritance tax law in such a way that it is "manifestly a clear declaration that a wife's half of the community property is not part of the property of the deceased husband, at least so far as the state inheritance taxes are concerned."

The decision also held that the state law determined the status of the federal inheritance taxes collectible.

The decision was rendered in the suit of James B. Blum and the Anglo-California Trust company as executors of the estate of Rose Blum to recover inheritance taxes paid under protest on one-half the decedent's interest in community property. Judge Hunt dissented.

Largest Stake In Arms Parley With Merchants, Claimed

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27. — American business men have the largest possible stake in the conference for the limitation of arms. The success of the conference is essential to the revival of prosperity, while its failure would be the greatest conceivable calamity in world affairs.

This was the declaration of Robert Newton Lynch, vice-president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, in an address before the Commonwealth club here.

"We regard ourselves as spectators in a great world spectacle, but in reality we are participants and the sentiment of the average citizen in the countries concerned will determine the issue of the conference," he continued, in a plea for enlightened public opinion on the conference issues.

Society Man Is Jailed; Wife Comes to Rescue

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Pearl Landers Whitney went to the aid of her husband, Vincent Whitney, when the noted society man, poloist and heir to the Whitney millions, was jailed on a charge of disturbing the peace. Mrs. Whitney visited her husband in jail and then left to consult an attorney in his behalf. The Whitneys were separated a year ago and Mrs. Whitney has been engaged in outfitting a motion picture expedition to Samoa. However, as soon as she learned of his arrest she went to the jail to visit him and it was reported a reconciliation was effected.

Whitney, according to the police, gave battle when arrested on complaint of Mrs. M. J. Neto, proprietress of a Clay street apartment. Miss Carrol Corrogan was arrested at the same time. Whitney, according to the police, partially wrecked a cell in which he was placed. Mrs. Whitney was quoted as declaring her husband's arrest was an "outrage."

Railroads Will Run, Is Claimed by Executives

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—"Strike or no strike—the railroads of the country are going to run."

This was the sentiment again expressed today by executives of the eastern railroads with regard to the threatened walkout of employes scheduled for October 30.

Working out of plans for running trains was placed in the hands of the Railway General Managers' association, and it was understood this organization has perfected details for uninterrupted railroad service at all costs.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, voiced the majority opinion among railroad officials when he expressed doubt that the strike would actually become effective, adding a hope that it would be averted.

Urge Harding to Admit Press to Arms Parley

HONOLULU, Oct. 27. — At the closing business session of the Press Congress of the world a resolution was adopted petitioning President Harding to admit the press to the deliberations of the disarmament conference.

Dean Walter Williams of the University of Missouri School of Journalism was renamed President of the Congress by acclamation and Secretary Brown was re-elected.

Condemning in vigorous terms the control by a few powerful news distributing agencies of news dissemination between Pacific lands, thus preventing actual "free trade" in wireless press correspondence and reduced press rates which would follow, Alexander Hume Ford, founder of the Pan-Pacific Union and now director of that organization, opened the sessions of the Pan-Pacific press conference. He concluded his address with the declaration that "for good or evil the power of the press will guide the destinies of the Pacific."

Cotton Ginning This Month Breaks Record

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. — Cotton ginned to October 18, as shown by the ginning report issued today, is the highest on record, according to a statement this afternoon by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

"The cotton ginned to October 18, namely, 5,477,397 bales, running weight, is 83.8 per cent of the October forecast of total production, which was 6,537,000," the secretary said. "So far as our records go, the highest per centage of cotton ginned to October 18 was 64.3 per cent in the year 1916, when the crop was a small one."

Conventionalities Will Not Hamper Their Married Life

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27. — A bit of Russian music played on a hotel lobby piano.

A meeting, a whirlwind twelve-hour courtship and Countess Martiana Wentworth De Lowe, artist, playwright and psychologist, was married to Milton Weston Hyatt, metaphysician, actor, minister, author, globe trotter and veteran of two wars.

But the word "obey" had no place in the marriage pact.

"Our lives are not to be hampered by conventionalities," said the husband. "Each grants to the other the right to express life in his or her own terms and ideas."

The newlyweds departed on a honeymoon hiking trip following the wedding ceremony.

Scotland's population is now 4,882,157.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked, or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Advertisement.
